

Weekly Peace Decree

The Timing Is Holy

I release the illusion of delay.
Nothing meant for me is ever late.

I no longer race the clock —
I return to rhythm.

What looks like waiting is really preparation.
What feels like stillness
is really alignment.

I trust divine timing because I trust divine love.
And I trust divine love because I am made from it.

“I am not behind. I am aligned.”

Created with love by Peace Practitioner

